M&A AdvisoryPrint Page

Islemount's mergers and acquisition practice draws from experienced professionals with broad international relationships and experience. Remaining at the forefront in high value businesses requires companies to reinvent core franchises in an effort to adapt, reinvigorate and extend core businesses or, conversely, to divest when value fundamentally shifts.

The international range of our practice is clearly focused on providing the best possible service to clients as served by our key, senior executives. Islemount's skills are underpinned by our independence from the internal conflicts and multiple roles that large financial organizations are likely to encounter. Our clients benefit from our active role in the full range of M&A roles: sell side; buy side; and merger advisory.

Utilizing our discretion and lack of conflicting interests, Islemount can act for special committees, boards or directors or shareholders, assisting in negotiations and giving impartial and objective advice. We provide objective and truly independent opinions on the value of opportunities, companies and assets that clients wish to pursue.
